Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, it is unclear how the loops of the axially spaced struts can lie in a (i.e. one) plane. In claim 11, the opening is claimed as being in line with the direction of blood flow. This direction is actually dependent on how the device is placed in the body. Therefore, doubt is raised as to how the loop is actually oriented relative to any other claimed element of the device itself. The opening can be claimed as being adapted or configured to be in line with a direction of blood flow. Or the claim could first set up that the tube has a longitudinal axis and the opening lies in a plane substantially transverse the axis and is adapted to be in line with a direction of blood flow.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 21-23 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP
